

Robot Rules

People have to follow rules or laws. Usually those rules and laws are there to protect us and make sure everyone is safe. Maybe robots should have rules that they should follow, too!

Think about what kind of rules robots should have. The rules should be designed to protect both humans and robots and make sure that robots never take over the world or harm people.

With a partner or in a group of three, think of three big rules that all robots, all over the world will have to follow. Write these rules down on this sheet. When you have finished writing the rules down, show them to an adult. They will give you the next sheet to work on!
